Enoch Winslow is 90

Winslow is a name well known in Plymouth and Mattapoisett. Some descendants of the first colony after they had a chance to look around found the finest harbor on the coast of Buzzards Bay and moved to Mattapoisett. Enoch Winslow of Park Street, Mattapoisett, is a direct descendant of that "Mayflower" Winslow and not only has great skill in his hand but also in his head both of which he used for over 50 years in a practice of his craft and service to his fellow townspeople. Enoch set up in business in Mattapoisett center in about 1919 or 1920. He operated one of the two early garages in the village on the corner of Church and Barstow Streets across from the Congregational Church. When first married to his wife, Viola, they lived in a small apartment over the garage while he built their first home on Barstow Street. That was the first of 12 homes Enoch has built in his day and that first home on Barstow Street led to the building of 2 more (opposite the library). As well as the 12 homes, he constructed Sylvia's Market on Church Street. Home building, however, was just a sideline for his craftsman's hands.

Enoch's great talent is in the building of bass boats. In about 1930 he went into business with Floyd Tinkham and set up a boat shop. He has built about 30 boats and they are justly famous on this coast. No need to advertise these boats because one owner would recommend Enoch to a friend. His daughters recall that he would come home every year or so and tell them he had a new boat to build. He'd say that this man had come in recommended by so and so and had commissioned a twin engine bass boat of 50 ft. or so. They would say, "That's fine Dad, what is the man's name?" He'd answer, "Why I don't know. I can't recall that his name was mentioned." Then he'd go right ahead and start construction with every confidence that his unknown sponsor would be back eager for a look at the developing boat. They never failed to appear but it was a family joke that he never knew who he was building for. In 1960, Clark University commissioned him to build the practice barge for the training of the racing crew. The boat shop was sort of the gathering spot in town. It was the unofficial clubhouse of the cronies of Enoch who would drop in to kibitz and "chew the fat" as they watched Enoch work on his latest. The whine of the saw was the music and the aroma of the fresh sawdust was always in the air as the planks were bent with great skill to marry with the frame. The pals would sit around in ancient chairs and impart the latest news to each other and in addition to these regulars, most everyone in town would wander in, welcome to check the progress of the work. When a boat was finished and ready for launch in the Spring it was more than just a private delivery. It was a town occasion that drew most everyone in the vicinity to watch the maneuver out of the shop and onto the railway (later the ramp) at the wharf. It was the occasion of Spring and the owner's pride was wonderful to behold. No longer an unknown stranger, he would have become, by this time, a warm friend and lifetime booster of the Winslow boat shop.

In 1968 at the same stand, Enoch, working mostly alone, built his last bass boat for a man who could hardly believe his luck at finding this Winslow still working at the boat building craft. Enoch then "retired" to the backyard of his home on Park Street where he constructed a boatshop where he constructed a boatshop where he could repair herreshoffs and build skiffs.

His hands are amond the few that could repair the finely fitted planks of the wooden herreshoff hulls and owners brought their boats to him for ministration when needed.

In addition to all this, Enoch served the town of Mattapoisett for over 50 years in various capacities mostly as Assessor. He was road commissioner one year. In one period the Winslow brothers were sort of a role call of town government. Ed was a member of the School Committee, Hallett was Treasurer, Enoch was Assessor and Raymond was on the Water Board.

As Enoch celebrated his 90th year on Monday, it was also Labor Day. That in itself is fitting for a life dedicated to a labor of love by highly skilled hands guided by a keen mind.

Happy Birthday from all the town to a true town father.

Selectmen's Meeting

SENIOR AIDE PLUS COORDINATOR APPROVED

Mattapoisett's Council on Aging succeeded in obtaining the town fathers' approval to hire not only a senior aide but also a coordinator for their office. According to Joyce McAteer of Coastline Elderly Services the Mattapoisett Council on Aging will advertise, interview and do the hiring of the coordinator. She explained that the specifications for an aide require the hiring of a person who would not be qualified to answer the telephone and file and set up the office. Accordingly, a coordinator would be necessary to do these tasks and teach the aide. She said that the aide also is needed to be an outside contact to seek out the elderly and to ask them what they need. The aide would call house to house with questionnaires to ask what is required so that the Council on Aging can proceed to fill the wants of the elderly.

It was explained that many people are too independent and proud to come forward voluntarily so that it is necessary to go to them, and the aide should be expected to make no more than 2 calls a day as old people like to talk. It was suggested that the low income elderly housing to be built would greatly increase the needs of the elderly.

Selectman R. William Blasdale said that the people who put these people in Mattapoisett should take care of them - that the State agency who would fill the home with outsiders should not burden the Mattapoisett taxpayer.

The Selectmen agreed to an aide and a 6-months' trial period for a coordinator but they said, "If there is not a need please don't create them." They said that the town believes in home rule but will go along on a limited basis with the Council's demands. On the other hand, they want it understood that they want no program built that is not necessary. They do want to see that older people in town are cared

BUS SERVICE AT ORR

Commencing with the new school year, Old Rochester Regional Junior High School and High School will initially reduce bus service after the end of the regular school day as one necessary response to the extraordinary pressures of inflation and the imperative need to conserve energy.

Four bus runs will be eliminated each week in the fall season: MONDAY, NO LATE RUNS; WEDNESDAY, NO 3:30 P.M. RUN; FRIDAY, NO 5:30 P.M. RUN.

The goal in planning reductions was to maintain those programs authorized by the School Committee and represents a compromise among the needs of diverse groups. Each of us must give a little.

Only the active cooperation of teachers, parents, and students can make this or any scheme work. A spirit of "can do", a cooperative attitude among all of us is the minimum requirement if we are to

The Sippican Choral Society, under the direction of Peter West, will resume rehearsals Monday, September 10th. The Congregational Church's Community Center in Marion will once again be the meeting place and singing will start promptly at 7:30 P.M.

The chorus will be working on Mozart's Coronation Mass in C Major, which it will perform with the New Bedford Symphony Orchestra at two joint Christmas concerts to be held December 1st and 2nd. Various other shorter works appropriate to the season will also be part of the program, and much fun is promised all participants.

New people are invited to join the group. Anybody who likes to sing and learn and work hard on important choral music is welcome. It should be noted, however, that no new members will be accepted after the first three rehearsals.

THINK ABOUT IT! With gasoline exceeding $1. per gallon, local residents will be more inclined to shop locally. If you are interested in opening a small shop on an equity basis, why not consider a Village Bazaar concept ... that is, several shops under one roof. For example, four 450 sq.ft. shops, each attracting shoppers, large enough to be viable entities & small enough to be affordable. The property at 8 Church St. provides for this creative possibility. A 4000 sq.ft. block building with all utilities, available parking, within easy walking distance of 100 village homes. Extremely favorable financing available.

VALUE! New Bedford's Historic District - Dutch Colonial, 2-family. Fireplaces, modern kitchens & baths, central heat, business-zoned, parking available. $24,900.

EAST FAIRHAVEN - Office/warehouse building. Business-zoned, all utilities. 2400 sq.ft., excellent condition. $43,500.

YMCA

DANCEFIT, AEROBIC DANCE PROGRAM

The New Bedford YMCA announces the addition of a new program to its fall schedule of classes. DanceFIT is a cardiovascular fitness program that combines the basic elements of a good fitness workout with the fun of dancing; the results are a stronger more efficent heart and lungs, greater flexibility, improved muscle tone, and more and more energy.

Each class begins with a 10-minute warmup which includes a slow stretching flexibility routine, floorwork which includes situps, and a choreographed routine which prepares the body for the more vigorous workout which follows. The cardiovascular portion of the program includes eight vigorous dance routines which are simple enough for the non-dancer to learn but challenging enough for all to enjoy; these might include a cha-cha, a hustle, rock, or a Charleston. These dances are followed by a five minute cooldown. Continuous movement and fun are the theme of the program.

Classes will begin the week of September 16 and will be held twice a week for 10 weeks. Morning classes will be on Tuesday and Thursday from 9:30 to 10:30.

Call the YMCA in New Bedford at 997-0734 for more information. Free demonstration classes will be given on Thursday, September 13, at 7:00 P.M. and Friday, September 14, at 9:30 a.m.

The New Bedford Symphony Orchestra announces openings for musicians for its 1979-1980 concert season. Vacancies exist in the symphony in the woodwind section for oboe, bassoon, and clarinet. In the brass section for horn, trumpet, and trombone, and in the violin, viola, violoncello and doublebass sections.
